At Princeton, N. J .- Pinal: Princeton to get a woman's vote by the offer of genial conversation, a cigar, and the whispered confidence that unless he is elected he doesn't know how he is going to meet his note at the bank.

Men can be flattered to death by such confidence, but whenever a man begins willing me how hard a pull be him to keep the kide in school, I wonder why he doesn't do a little wark, less talking and pay his notes off himself instead of expecting the tax navers to elser him to keep the some office he probably will pay some woman clerk to fill for him, merely for the nake of aiding him to keep his boys in school or some other squally—to the conscientions voter—unconvincing reason. of 7.
